THE CAPITAL CAMPAIGN FOR EPISCOPAL

Game Time

COMMIT TO THE KNIGHTS

A FIELD HOUSE FOR EVERYONE

Construction is underway on the new Episcopal field house. This is the first major athletic facility constructed on Episcopal's campus since the pool was installed in 1997 and the first athletic building since the 1982 addition of the Annslee Laura Phillips '00 Memorial Gym. Over the last 22 years, Episcopal's enrollment has grown, putting extra pressure on limited facilities. The school now fields 62 varsity and sub-varsity teams in Upper and Middle School and physical education classes are provided five days a week for all three divisions through ninth grade. The new field house will have flexible space to accommodate physical education needs and wellness programs, such as strength training, sports medicine, nutrition and more. The field house will also replace outdated weight rooms and crowded dressing rooms with updated fitness facilities and locker rooms that will benefit the entire student body. Such a space matters to coaches and staff. To better accommodate those at the helm of the program, Episcopal must provide sufficient office space and designated coaches' locker rooms. Episcopal coaches devote themselves tirelessly to students and athletes, and this state-of-the-art facility will replace their substandard offices, helping them do their job even better and giving them the facilities they deserve.

This is your opportunity to be a part of this historic project. We invite you to learn more about the Episcopal field house and the naming recognition opportunities within this brochure.

RESERVE YOUR SPOT TODAY! FIELD ENTRANCE

The Knight emblem is the historic symbol of Episcopal's athletic identity. As you enter the field house, you'll look with pride upon this symbol of Episcopal athletic excellence. Share your allegiance to the Knights by leaving a reminder of your support and dedication on a granite entrance paver, which is a strong statement of your commitment.

JOIN THE TEAM

Athletics is a big part of the Episcopal experience. Whether it's the enjoyment of a P.E. class, the opportunity to be a part of a team, a lesson from a coach, or the comradery that comes from cheering on the Knights, athletics benefit the entire school community. Please join our family in supporting the field house project. Go Knights!

ALL IN

Episcopal's commitment to academic, artistic, athletic and spiritual excellence truly made an impact on me as a student and athlete, and now as a father and physician. The third phase of the Spirit • Mind • Body campaign, the field house, is especially meaningful to me. We are excited that this new facility will offer all Lower, Middle and Upper School students the opportunity to appreciate fitness and wellness through physical education classes and competitive Middle and Upper School athletics. I hope you will join us in supporting this important addition to campus.
